Riverdale, GA (October 28, 2011) – The new digital center at the Lite House - Pointe South Afterschool Center is being dedicated in honor of Riverdale City Councilman Kenny Ruffin.

Councilman Ruffin's commitment to youth development is well known in the Riverdale community. He initiated the Fall Festivals held between 2004-2007, fostering family fun and bonding. He has been instrumental in the relationship Riverdale schools and Lite House afterschool centers have with the Hawks basketball corporation, enabling kids to attend professional NBA games as well as interact with the players. He has supported a number of basketball programs in Riverdale. Melvin Morris, Founder and Executive Director of Lite House, Inc has this to say, "Councilman Ruffin has been a pillar in this and surrounding communities; therefore, it is only befitting that his legacy lives on within the walls where children learn and grow at Lite House."

For the last four years Councilman Ruffin has served on the National League of Cities Council for Youth Education and Family. He has currently partnered with endCSENow, organization dedicated to bringing awareness about the issue of commercial exploitation of children in Georgia. He is also the founder and chairman of the Riverdale Youth Council, a committee of aspiring young leaders serving as advocates with government and community on youth related issues.
